GOLD-FIELDS AT CHUBUT.

In July 1891 a certain mining "captain" named Richards came out from Wales to the Chubut Colony for the purpose of prospecting for gold. He seems to have succeeded in finding deposits of the precious metal, and it only remains to be seen whether gold can be obtained in quantities sufficient to pay the working. We need hardly observe that some of the Patagonian rivers flowing from the Andes have been found, during the last thirty years, especially the Gallegos, to offer gold-washings of more or less importance. Our old friend Captain Smyly, who resided many years on those shores, frequently brought us samples of gold in the years 1863 to 1869, but after his death we heard little on the subject till the Cape Virgin gold-fields were discovered in 1885. The latter at one time gave much promise, and some persons really extracted considerable quantities of gold; one Frenchman, we remember, took out for the value of £8,000 sterling, and returned immediately to France.

It is more than probable that the gold found at Gallegos and Cape Virgin consists simply of deposits washed down from the Andine slopes, and that valuable gold-fields may sooner or later be discovered in that part of the Andes where the rivers that flow down to the Atlantic take their rise. As yet we know very little of the head-waters of the Chubut, Santa Cruz, Gallegos etc. Meantime the subjoined letter of Capt. Richards will be read with interest, for "coming events cast their shadows before."

Yeca, Dec. 7th 1891

I am happy to inform the Chubut colonists that the auriferous lands belonging to Edwin Roberts and Co. contain gold in advantageous quantities. I have explored the ground carefully and found in one place gold deposits covering an area of 4,000 acres, and in another 2,500 acres. Every day the diggers turn up fresh proofs of the riches here contained, opening up brilliant prospects for the Chubut colony. What is required is an organized plan to develop the districts of Quisaure, Yeca and Corcovado, and to this end the colonists had better bestir themselves at once.

At present I cannot go further into details, but the diggers are anxious at once to form a company for working these gold fields and securing their rights of property in the same. This news must be very gratifying to Mr. Michael Jones, and I hope that the newspapers in Wales will publish the same, and caution our friends at home from making a rush hither until we get the gold-fields into our possession, to avoid disagreeable consequences. The discovery promises to be of much benefit to the Welsh nation.

BRITISH AND AMERICAN BENEVOLENT SOCIEY.

The Committee of Management have to report to the subscribers that during the year 1891 the Society's operations have been greatly extended, that is to say there have been much heavier calls on its funds. This is mainly owing to the collapse of the Naposta Colony, which threw upon the town of Buenos Ayres at one time 450 persons; fortunately the Argentine Immigration Department took charge of them, but nevertheless they have been a constant drag, being a helpless, useless, lot of people, many of whom are quite unfitted for this country, and consequently unable to obtain a livelihood.

Thanks are due to Mr. F. W. Barrow, the Manager of the Great Southern Railway, for according these persons a free passage to Buenos Ayres.

During the winter months great outcery was made in the public press as to the distress prevailing, and the Committee worked with the lay branch of the Salvation Army in finding food and shelter for quite a number of persons.

Throughout the year 1129 persons received temporary relief, and there are 14 persons in receipt of fixed monthly allowances to the value of $1204 currency per annum. Fully paid or partially paid passages to England were accorded to 31 individuals, chiefly women and children.

Subscriptions and donations amounted to $119 gold and $9,623 currency, and show an increase over 1890 of $42 gold and $3,876 currency. The Committee have to thank the Minstrel Troupe of the U. S. S. Tallapoosa for share of a performance which yielded $681 currency. The members of the Amateur Dramatic Club were good enough to hand over $279 currency, and a concert of the Choral Union produced $103 currency.

The suspension of the English Bank of the River Plate caused the lock up of $17 gold and $1584 currency, and the year closed with a debt to the Hon. Treasurer of $1,040 currency and to the London and River Plate Bank of $666 currency.

The position of the Society would have been far worse had it not met with the assistance of a number of ladies. On the 6th November a meeting was called and presided over by the Honorable Mrs. Pakenham who in an able address called upon the ladies of Buenos Ayres to come forward and aid the Committee not only in collecting funds but relieving the cases of distress. The appeal was warmly responded to and has led to the establishment of Ladies' Branches in Belgrano, Quilmes, Flores, North of the City and Barracas, who materially assist the General Committee.

The Committee repeat their annual caution against promiscuous almsgiving as they constantly hear of cases of worthless people who have been refused assistance applying to charitably disposed persons and obtaining their desires.

There are seven ex-Officio members of Committee, and seven others have to be elected by the subscribers from among their number.

NATIONAL THEATRE.

PERFORMANCE OF "THE SORCERER."

On Wednesday night Gilbert and Sullivan's opera The Sorcerer was given for the first time in Buenos Ayres.

This opera was produced in London in November 1877, and was very well received; it stands second on the list of works which have given Gilbert and Sullivan world-wide fame; the preceding ones, with the exception of "Trial by Jury," attracted but little attention. The music is decidedly pretty and the orchestration clever; there is little resemblance to the large family of sisters, cousins and aunts which year by year are added to the roll.

In the first act, the villagers assemble to wish Alexis and Aline joy on their approaching marriage, and these latter, being so very happy in their engagement, wish to make all in the village follow their example; in order to do this they have recourse to Mr. Wells, a family sorcerer, who promises a potion which will make the persons fall in love at first sight. The act concludes with general merry-making and drinking of tea which has been charmed.

The second act shows the working of the spell, but unfortunately the wrong people are mated. Sir Marmaduke, the father of Alexis, finding himself engaged to Mrs. Partlett, the pew opener.

Constance, madly in love with Dr. Daly, the Vicar, finds herself with the oldest man in the village. Aline has forgotten her vows of love to Alexis and has promised to wed the Vicar, and lady Sangazure, Aline's mother, looking for some one to love, sees Mr. Wells and is at once smitten. He, not having taken the potion, is proof against her charms, and a very amusing duet takes place. Matters arrive at such a pitch that it becomes necessary to remove the spell, and Mr. Wells being consulted says that either he or Alexis must die. He appeals to the assembly and is unanimously condemned, all then returning to their former allegiance.

The piece showed want of rehearsal; the orchestra being particularly weak. Cymbal playing is not to be considered as a very difficult matter, but the overture suffered from this performer's playing out of time. The quartette in the 2nd act, the best number in the opera, and well sung by Mesdames Braham and Webb, Messrs Manville, Fisbe and Fairbanks, was also nearly spoiled by faulty time on the part of the orchestra. On being encored it went without a hitch, Miss Braham sustained her reputation, giving a charming representation of Aline, her singing and acting leaving nothing to be desired. She deserves the thanks of theatre-going people for the well-administered reproof given to some "jovenes distinguidos" who occupied one of the stage boxes.

The duet between Sir Marmaduke and Lady Sangazure, Mr. Fisbe and Miss A. Cooke, was deservedly encored, both artistes singing well. Mr. Fisbe is the most promising member of the company; young, well-built and possessing a splendid voice, there is no reason why he should not attain a high place among English singers before the end of the present century.

The part of Constance, one of the prettiest in the opera, was taken by Miss Belle Clancy. She has a pleasing voice, but once or twice her time seemed hurried. Miss Dolly Webb was satisfactory as Mrs. Partlett.

Mr. J. Wilkinson gave one of his best performances as John Wellington Wells, the scene between him and Lady Sangazure being highly amusing, both being recalled.

Mr. Manville and Mr Fairbanks filled the parts of Alexis and Dr. Daly respectively; the first named artiste has improved since his last visit.

The ballet was well applauded, Miss Georgie's skipping-rope dance being encored.

The attendance was good, but not enthusiastic. However, Mr. Edwin Cleary is to be warmly complimented on his enterprise in putting this opera on the boards, requiring as it does a strong cast.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

A truly terrible outrage was reported yesterday from San Luis, where the police appear to have run a muck. A leading Radical gentleman named Salvador Collao was quietly sipping his "mate" in his house when two police-commissaries—Juan Gutierrez and David Salazar—entered and informed him that they had come to arrest him. Mr. Collao, who was in negligé, asked for time to dress and went to his room for that purpose. The commissaries became impatient, burst into the room, seized their half-dressed victim, and by way of preliminary put three bullets into him. One of the bullets pierced the unfortunate man's stomach. Of course, Collao fell down on the floor dying, but the commissariea, with a fiendish degree of cruelty, ordered a policeman to bring a horse and tied the dying man to the horse's back with a view of taking him to prison. Gutierrez, seeing the man dying, wanted to despatch him and proceeded to strike him about the head. This scene was witnessed by a shop-boy, who on expressing his horror, was seized and wounded on the head with a sword-stroke. But this was not the only outrage. Mr Galan, a gentleman of local standing, was attacked in his own house. Luckily there were some friends with him and with their combined efforts they repelled the ruffianly assailants. This, however, is not all. The police swept down on the Libertad, the local opposition paper, and arrested the editor and manager. These outrages shew that San Luis is steeped in medieval barbarism. Of course, we have only given one side of the question, as related in the telegrams received yesterday. These circumstances may be exaggerated, but we are inclined to think, in the present state of provincial political animosity, the outrages have been only too faithfully reported.

There is a general degringolade in Santiago. The head of the Topographical Department has resigned: so has the head of the Civil Registry and Dr. Cron, of the Hospital, has thrown up the "poncho" and says he won't attend to any more chronic complaints. Other resignations are imminent. This resignation mania dates from the retirement of Dr. Lagar, finance-minister and premier; but what the direct cause of the mania is does not appear to be precisely known. We should like to introduce the cause here, the resignation-mania being of such rare occurrence in Buenos Ayres.

Our Rosario exchanges report the discovery of a horrible crime. Several unsuspecting people were inveigled into a boating-excursion on the river and were murdered for the money they had on their persons. A man named Rochoteinen has been arrested on suspicion. The corpse of one of the victims has been found on the bank of the river near Diamante. Crimes are now of such frequent occurrence in the province that this column may soon develop into a daily record of provincial outrages. The police, we presume, are a good deal to blame. In San Luis and Salta, they are, to judge by the telegrams published by our Argentine contemporaries, the guilty parties. The National Congress, when it meets, would do well to discuss the best means of stemming the torrent of provincial crimes.

Baron Hirsch's agent has arrived in the town of Uruguay and purchased Mr. Garcia's estate at the rate of $70,000 the square league. The rumor in Uruguay is that the agent has orders to buy up half the province.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Paris, January 16th

Only one subject engrosses attention—the influenza. Clearly it is no respecter of persons; however, the death of so many celebrities in such quick succession eclipses the high death-rate of humbler mortals. Everyone suffers from fear, but the latter has not developed into a panic. "Cui bono?" There is no panacea sovereign against the insidious plague, for the influenza is a plague; there is no country exempt from the scourge, no matter how mild or how severe may be its climate. Algeria is as dangerous as Siberia; Italy as London. What aggravates the misery of the situation is the conviction that the doctors know no more about the strange disease, baptized "en attendant" influenza, than do their patients. The prescriptions differ as wide as the Poles. Keep apartments sweet, but not cold; on the first feeling of a "droop" go to bed, keep warm, take moderate nourishing meals, three slight doses of sulphate of quinine before meals, and a stiff hot grog at intervals; maintain the mind free of business and politics and remain in a merry mood.

The French Press alludes in very nice terms to the bereavement that has overtaken the Royal Family of England. Such was to be expected. The most indifferent is compelled to pause at the working of destiny, which severs the loves of two "fiancés"; where Death replaces Joy and Sorrow Happiness, a fiancé left, it may be said, a maiden, a wife, and a widow at once. And these afflictions have been measured out with that democratic rigor akin to the grave itself. "Vanitas Vanitatum!"

The death of the Khedive, that the funny journals here attribute to the English as a matter of course, will not affect the work or the influence of the British in the Nile valley. If the counsel of England was necessary to guide the late father, it must be an imperative necessity for the inexperienced son. However, the French must by this be convinced that the Central European Powers, whose delegate she is, do not wish her to leave till her helpful work be fully accomplished; neither do French financiers whose cellars and garrets are full of Egyptian bonds. France can propound no solution for the conditions to be fixed for any evacuation, no more than she can prefer charges against the administration of the country by the English. The Sultan has recognised Abbas Pachas as his Vice-roy, the latter, as well as England, does not question the sovereignty of the Padishah. A dual or international crutch for the Khedive could not do more, but almost for a certainty could do worse.

No one now talks of the Franco-Russian alliance; that must hold over till a more convenient season. The Czar is not occupied with dreams of invasion; he is fighting his two terrible invaders Starvation and Hunger-typhus, and that are likely to "hold the fort" for a long time. Russia must come out of her terrible trials weakened in men-power, crippled in material resources, and perhaps financially ruined. Her agriculture struck down, paralyzes her trade and industry, and where is the gold—for paper is valueless—to come from to meet her engagements? Leaving these dark contingencies aside it is a noble spectacle to witness the substantial help, the "hereditary foe" England is giving to relieve the destitute Muscovites; not because they are Russians, but suffering members of the great brotherhood of man. It was that same principle made English hearts leap to the assistance of France after the 1870-71 war. Famine is a powerful peace-maker. If the French do not bestir themselves, English pity will captivate the childish hearts of the moujiks. A loaf and a blouse as gifts are powerful prosletyzing agents with the hungy and the unclad. It would be sufficient to make them cry 'Vive l'Angleterre,' and to warble "God Save the Queen!"

The new tariff has been published and proclaimed law; it will come into operation on the first of February. It is a terrible document in point of columns of figures where next to prohibitive duties bristle against the foreigner like guns in a fortress to outsiders. About 900 classes of articles are put in quarantine by the ultra protectionist new Customs Bill. How it will work; what will be its results, will commence to cast the shadow before only about June next. Of course, importers are busy laying in stocks to gain the benefit of the existing relatively low tariffs; when these stocks have been worked up then will come the tug of war. By then too, the retaliatory fiscal federation of Europe will be telling on French exports; the "lex talionis" of those countries, in reply to the lamentable blunder France committed by denouncing her commercial treaties with all countries. The difficulty with her is to renew them. Spain will certainly now go with the federatives. How France is to extricate herself out of her commercial mess and muddle is impossible to see. And when her exports shall have been locked out she will have to face stagnation in home industries, and men out of work having to purchase artificially-raised priced food.

M. Floquet has been re-elected Speaker of the Chamber of Deputies for the new Session — for the old one expired simultaneously with the birth of its successor "The Chamber is dead, long live the Chamber!" It required not much difficulty to push M. Floquet from his stool; he received but 230 votes out of a total of 535; no candidate was opposed to him. The Monarchists declined to vote for him—abstained—owing to his foolish dictum about the last Pope being a free and accepted mason. As 330 votes were given for M. Mahy, the first of the vice-presidents, that was equivalent to a snub for Floquet. Now that the deputies have got rid of the Tariff Bill, it is to be hoped they will take up and seriously shindle the many projects for ameliorating Labor Grievances, notably the Old Age Pension Scheme for workers.

The Morocco insurrection may yet give rise to serious trouble. All the European Powers intend to be remembered in the partition of the Sultanate. England will certainly hold to the possession of Tangiers, leaving the rest to her confederates. Having the plum, she will forego the pudding. France is peculiarly situated: her occupation of a portion of Morroco might lead the tribes to annoy her in Algeria, and perhaps kindle a religious war.

The Sanitary Conference at Venice is not expected to produce the slightest practical consequences. As it has taken a political turn, matters will likely remain as they are. Why not the Mediterranean powers, instead of calling upon Egypt to protect their ports, all-time centres of infection, by quarantine arrangements, follow the example of England, and regulate the sanitary wants of their mercantile marine themselves? The Suez Canal ought to be free for the passage of every ship, sure for that modern Flying Dutchman, a Petroleum blazer!

THE BAKING GUARANTORS AND THE BONDHOLDERS.

When Mr Lidderdale gave Mr Noetzlin the letter saying that the Bank of England and the Baring guarantors accepted the conversion scheme, it was understood that Barings should be freed from the obligation of taking £1,200,000 Six per Cent Bonds at 85 to construct the first section of the Western Railway. This was done in an ingenious manner, by introducing an article into the famous compact of August 26, prohibiting Uruguay from issuing any loan or bonds for three years. This looked nice and moral, and was applauded by the uninitiated; but the meaning was to get rid of the incubus of the railway bonds. A Deputy in Montevideo spoilt this game by calling the attention of the House to the importance of the innocent-looking article. He said: "If we vote this the Western Railway contractors can come down upon us for damages, and the consequences may be fearful". The Deputies rejected it. Still, the Council of Foreign Bondholders says that the law did not modify the contract. It was modified with a vengeance for the Baring guarantors. This much is known, but what is not known to the public is who prompted the Deputy to observe the article. I know it, and if Mr Lidderdale knew who it was he would be very much astonished.

Up to this I have handled Sir John Lubbock tenderly, as I never like to see a great reputation wrecked; but, as he persists in trying to force through the confiscation scheme, I must give him some advice before it is too late. We must not forget that the financiers conjured with Sir John Lubbock's name, not only in London, but in Montevideo also, and that it is time for him to get out of this scheme before the Uruguay conversion becomes the grave of his reputation. He has yet time—not much. Let him call the bondholders together and say to them: "I have no personal interests in this scheme; here is the conversion law, passed by the Uruguayan Government; do you accept it or reject it—yes or no?" This is his duty, and if he does not comply with it—well, the worse for him. If this battle be fought out to the bitter end, that end will probably be a parliamentary inquiry, concluding with the withdrawing of the Charter of the Council of Foreign Bondholders. I had almost forgotten to say that when a deputy in Montevideo asked why the commission was so large, the Minister replied that it was necessary, because it appeared that it was customary in London to subvention the press and pay commissions to persons carrying out the scheme. Those carrying out the scheme are Sir John Lubbock, Sir Edward Thornton, Mr. Neotzlin, and Glyn, Mills, Currie and Co. Would it not be well to write to the Uruguayan Government asking them to publish the letter in Montevideo, saying that it is not customary nor possible to bribe the leading newspapers, and that English gentlemen do not take commissions unless fairly earned.—Antwerp.

OUR LATE CARDINAL.

(From the "Pall Mall Gazette.")

"Why sits the city mournful?" Cardinal Manning has died, full of years and honors: the venerable prelate whose saintly life, vigorous intellect and sympathetic breadth of view have loomed on England for so long, far above the plane of sectarian differences, with a sense of something great and overshadowing and good. Among the people of England a personal attachment had come to gather around the Cardinal.

There is no need to add the surname, for it was one of the pleasantest marks of the affectionate hold which the great ecclesiastic had obtained on the popular imagination that he was always spoken of as "the Cardinal" or "our Cardinal." In the ecclesiastical sphere, it has of late been Cardinal Manning, the Catholic Archbishop, who has played the great part and won the great rewards. The national position which the Cardinal had come to hold was most conspicuously seen at the time of the great dock strike. The assistance which the Cardinal rendered in adjusting that civil war recalls those great acts of secular service by which mainly his Church acquired that hold upon the world which centuries have failed to destroy. It was not an unnatural mistake which caused the foreign papers to speak sometimes of the Cardinal as the Cardinal Archbishop of Canterbury. The mistake was a significant tribute to the unique position which his unsparing self-devotion, unfailing tact and sagacity had won in the face of every prejudice and every obstacle. It would take us too far into discussions to look for the causes of Cardinal Manning's national position. Today one thinks first of the Cardinal's personality, and of the great qualities of head and heart which he brought to the opportunities of his office. One may estimate those qualities most adequately by remembering what they achieved. It is hardly too much to say that he revolutionized the whole state of public opinion and of feeling in this country towards his Church. To Catholicism in general he rendered the great service of bringing it in touch with the democratic movement of the time. Meanwhile he made out of his Archbishopric in Westminster a position for influencing deeply and at a hundred points the political and social life of the country of his birth. He combined "the philanthropy of a Shaftesbury with the spirit of a Palmerston." He was a Cardinal of Rome, but he was a patriotic Englishman, every inch of him. But the ecclesiastic, the statesman, and the philanthropist never overlaid in Cardinal Manning the man, the counsellor, and friend. All sorts and conditions of men and women were welcome at his palace, and nobody has entered the presence of the Cardinal without coming away the richer for his counsel and the better for his sympathy. We know not, in how many hearts, among all classes and communions, there will be the feeling of personal bereavement when it is known that the Palace in the Vauxhall Bridge-road no longer contains the great spirit of "Our Cardinal."

THE TRADE IN FROZEN MEAT.

From the report of Messrs. W. Weddel and Co., with regard to the frozen meat trade in 1891, we observe that the total number of carcases of sheep imported during the year was 5,323,821, as against 2,943,076 in 1890. Of these 1,896,603 came from New Zealand, 334,693 from Australia, 18,897 from the Falkland Islands, and 1,073,525 from the River Plate. Of these last, 162,330 were disembarked in London, and 911,195 in Liverpool. Besides these about 100,000 carcases of River Plate mutton were imported to France.

Large as have been the imports, it appears that the producing capacity of the meat-exporting countries is far from being worked to its full extent. The approximate capacity of the freezing establishments of the world is estimated at about 8,000,000 carcases annually. In New Zealand 17 establishments are in operation, with a capacity of 3,665,000, and four works are under construction, which, when complete, will increase the yearly output by about 500,000 carcases. In New South Wales, and in Queensland, other establishments are being built, which when in operation are expected to increase the production of Australia to about 1,500,000 carcases per annum. At the River Plate there is no immediate prospect of fresh freezing plant being erected, but the four existing establishments are by no means worked up to their full capacity, which in understood to be about 2,500,000 carcases per annum.

There are now 87 steamers, with a carrying capacity of 5,390,000 carcases, engaged in the trade, as compared with 75 a year ago, with a carrying capacity of 4,432,000 per annum. Of these, 22 steamers, annual capacity 1,850,000, are on the River Plate route. There has been a distinct improvement in the character of the sheep imported from the River Plate during the year 1891, as compared with the two preceding years. This is only what was expected in a favorable season, the steps taken prior to 1889, with a view to improving the breed of many of the largest flocks in the country, having naturally resulted in an all round advance in respect to the average weight per carcase and quality of mutton. Falkland Island sheep have also improved as compared with 1886-1887.

As regards quality, New Zealand mutton occupies the premier position. An unusual abundance of Merino mutton was observable amongst New Zealand consignments as compared with last year, but this may indicate nothing more than a desire of growers to get rid of this class of sheep in favour of some of the crossbred varieties, and it is perhaps as well for the New Zealanders that this change has not been longer delayed. For several months past the quotation of best River Plate mutton has exceeded by 1d. per lb. the price of New Zealand Merino mutton, and consumers are now often unable to decide which of the two is the better class of meat. Messrs. Weddel strongly advocate the adoption of a recognized system of grading the carcases before shipment. This would greatly facilitate business, and lead to better prices being obtained.

The average freight from New Zealand was 1d. per lb. for mutton, 1½d. per lb. for lamb, and 2d. per lb. for beef. A strong syndicate of shipowners have contracted to carry 1,200 tons of mutton per month from Queensland, for a period of five years, at the rate of 13-16d. per lb., and 2d. per lb. for beef. River Plate freights are private and not uniform.—South American Journal.

SELL'S DICTIONARY OF THE WORLD'S PRESS.

This is the 12th edition and contains a few pages of matter relating to the Press of this country, which is headed as "The Newspaper Press of the Argentine Republic," accompanied by eight photographs of newspaper editors in Buenos Ayres and a list of principal news-sheets that are published in this Republic, Uruguay, Paraguay and Chile etc.

The price of this useful book or journal in London is 2 shillings, and in Buenos Ayres $5.00 m/n. Few, no doubt, are the fortunate possessors of a copy for 1891 of Mr. Henry Sell's "Dictionary of the World' Press," in this Republic, and a correspondent who has received a volume of the above for last year gives herewith below a few brief remarks on it and the means of obtaining it through him (the agent):—

"Having received Mr. Sell's "Dictionary of the World's Press and Advertiser's Reference Book," for 1891, which is certainly unique, having no less than 1,450 pages, and in which is to be found a short history upon the Argentine Press (from 1888 to the end of 1889,) to which is contributed 8 portraits of the then most important newspaper editors in Argentina."

The Times, (London,) under date of Jan. 19th says:—

"It certainly is the most complete Dictionary of the Press that has yet been seen. A good deal of useful information is added under the head of each country or town, such as the market days, the distance from London, the industries carried on, and other matters of interest. Sufficient information is given of the history, conduct, political opinion, terms for advertisements and general and special characteristics of each journal etc.

The publisher, Mr. H. Sell, has duly authorized me to receive advertisements for his coming number of 1893, also to receive subscriptions for the edition already published and for the forthcoming number.

If there are any parties interested in this very useful and instructive Guide, will they kindly address in first instance (giving name and address) to P.O.B. 63, (or Casilla del Correo,) Buenos Ayres, I shall be pleased to communicate with them hereon.

So many applications have already been made for the Dictionary that I see the necessity of making a special visit to Mr. Sell, in London, about fulfilling the requirements, and to meet the wants of the public.

F. W. N. Lodia.

Ed. Note. The above valuable work is on exhibition every day at this office from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The Chief of the Statistical Office now attached to the N. R. Board has reported favorably on the petition of the settlers at Cerrillos for the completion of the Cabra-Corral Railway.

The Southern Railway Branch from Ayacucho to Balcarce will be opened to traffic on the 24th inst. Trains will run three times a week, leaving Ayacucho on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 8.30 a.m. and returning from Balcarce on the same days at 5.33 p.m.

Mr. Lewall, manager of the North East Argentine, writes to us in regard to the robberry of the company's safe reported by us some days ago. Mr. Lewall states that there were $40,000 in the safe, but that the burglars only took $20,000, there being a secret drawer in the safe which they could not open and which contained the other $20,000. The burglars were captured by the police and so far $9,000 has been recovered out of the amount stolen

We take following statements of traffic-returns from a London exchange of Jan. 16:

"Argentine Great Western." Traffic receipts for the week ending Jan. 8th. $41,900 against $23,228 in 1890.

"Buenos Ayres and Pacific." The approximate earnings for the week ending Jan. 2nd were $44,050. The decrease in traffic is due to holidays. Miles open 426.

"Cordoba Central." The approximate earnings for the week ended Jan. 3th were as follows: Original Line, $18,500 against 18,007 for corresponding week in 1891; increase, $493. Miles open, 128½. Central Northern Section, $35,000 against $59,997 for corresponding week in 1891; decrease, $24,997. Miles open, 549½.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Ethiopian sandwich-men with white hats were the "novedad del dia" yesterday. Several of them began business by coming to our office for STANDARDS. The ebony gentlemen had big wooden bottles slung on their necks; and they are strongly suspected to be the precursors of a new and delicious brand of cooling whiskey.

The Gold Eagle got such a bad fall yesterday that he broke his collar bone. He attributes his misfortune to the conciliatory aspect of politics.

Britishers living along the quondam Northern, now Central Argentine Railway, will have a good chance to see the Cleary Company to-morrow as there will be a special train to the Tigre at midnight, stopping at all the stations necessary.

Great news for the ladies, who have again won the day. They will be admitted to the Lawn Tennis Tournament, and have up to the 26th inst. to enter. The Hon. F. Pakenham, H. M. Minister, has kindly offered a prize for Ladies and Gentlemen's Doubles.

Mr. Pablo Ludwig's "Guia Descriptiva" of the City of Buenos Ayres, including Flores and Belgrano, will be issued in the first week of March in Spanish, and subsequently, at intervals, in English, French, Italian and German. It is intended to be the most complete Guide ever published here and will contain 48 chapters of lively, descriptive matter of everything in the city with statistics and commercial and historical data of all kinds. Those who wish to advertize in this important work can apply to Mr. Ludwig at No 1028 Calle Rio Bamba.

We want to see Mr. Blaedel about his Safety Harness, and would feel obliged by his calling on us.

The new Minister of Foreign Affairs in Brazil, Colonel Serzedello, has begun by consigning Dr. Acevedo, the Brazilian Minister here, to the retired list. This is a very unusual proceeding and has caused surprise in the Diplomatic Corps here. Dr. Assiz Brazil is coming to the Plate on a special mission next month.

There was very bad yellow fever news from Santos yesterday. The foreigners attacked die like flies, and there are seventy three abandoned vessels in the port.

The Galveston telegrams will be to the front again to-morrow or next day. The cable was badly broken near Panama, but the repairs are nearly completed. The public cannot get on without Galveston's breezy telegrams at breakfast.

The Lord Mayor heroically refuses to contribute the cost of even one gas lamp from the City Treasury for Carnival. The only thing he means to do is to ask the War Minister to supply a few regimental bands for the occasion. Those innocent citizens who want a Corso and find amusement in it must pay for it out of their own pockets.

The Prensa strongly advises young gentlemen who intend to figure at the White Ball at the Tigre Hotel not to exhibit such shocking bad taste as to wear smoking jackets (which some of them threaten to do), as such garments will make them look like waiters and ridiculous in the mazy dance. That's about it.

The new Boulevard Commissioners named by the Lord Mayor are Messrs. Juan G. Peña, Emilio Rodriguez Larreta, Justo Guillola, Juan Drysdale, Luis Ortiz Basualdo, Joaquin Chas, Emilio Duportal.

In the partido of Necochea a truly wonderful old gentleman named Carvajal has just gone to another and a better world at the great age of 108. But his widow is a still greater marvel of longevity, as she has celebrated her 117th birthday, has all her faculties in splendid order, and all her teeth as sound as when she counted only seventeen summers.

The Foreign Office in Montevideo has official advices that the yellow fever in Rio shows a decline so far in February, as compared with the same number of days in January. This is agreeable news.

Jean de Reszke, the noted tenor, says that he has fifteen operas in his repertory. He has a remarkable memory and says that the stage prompter only bothers him. It takes him usually a week to learn a new opera, but sometimes he carries a new role to his room in the evening and before he goes to bed has stored it in his mind, note and letter perfect.

Another murder by policemen in San Luis was reported yesterday; also a savage case of ill-treatment at San Justo, near town.

Some extraordinarily good news about the Chuput gold fields has been received, we see. Mr. Richards, the discoverer, says he has 2,500 more acres of the richest auriferous soil to add to the 4,000 he discovered last year. The Taffies are in luck. What a rush there will be to the Chuput Balaarat. The gold premium would feel the effects of a genuine gold discovery in the republic.

The Republica of Santiago de Chile says that the letter recently published, purporting to be from Balmaceda to General Mitre is a pure farce, as the late Dictator left no letters except those to his mothers his widow, his brother, and the Argentine Minister, Sr. Uriburu.

A locomotive has just been built at the Crewe Works for the London and North-western Railway which is capable of drawing a train at the rate of 100 miles an hour. The speed attained by this engine in the trial runs between Crewe and Chester was ninety miles an hour, but this was shown to be considerably below its full powers.

We note in our advertisement column to-day that Doctor Araujo's magnificent house at 325 Avenida de la Republica is to be let. There are 15 rooms in it, and the garden reminds us of England. It is a splendid chance for those who can afford to take it.

Mr. Lundstrom, the young Swedish photographer who is so rapidly working his way to the front, will have on sale next week splendid views which he recently took of Mar del Plata and its environs. The Bristol Hotel, inside and outside (the immense dining saloon is a gem), the sea

Chascomus, March 23rd 1891.

Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to ITS EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.

It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Monday, Feb. 18th.

A keen bearish blast swept through the gold market this morning and produced quite a panic in the speculation. Long before the ring opened the leading bearish operators were confident that a thorough 'degringolade' was imminent, in view of the great improvement in politics; and when the ring was opened the bears rushed in and succeeded in quoting the very first operation at 58½; as the figure was chalked up on the board there was a yell of triumph in the bearish camp, and the cheers of the members shook the columns in the hall. There could be no doubt that the bears were coming down on the market with horse, foot and artillery, and before a quarter of an hour had elapsed another bearish yell announced the ounce at $58, and at this juncture a mild panic was visible; in a few moments the price of the ounce was driven down to 57.30, but a bullish rally set in and the market closed at 57.70, say 254½ % premium; over twenty-four thousand ounces were sold. Four thousand sovereigns changed hands; the price opened at $18.10, fell to 17.85, and closed at 17.95, say 256 o/o premium. We must go back to the end of June last year to find a precedent for to-day's gold level.

Patriotic Bonds were firm at 61 to 61½. La Plata Cedulas K, L, M and N were all chalked up at 27; about twenty thousand sold; the stock ruled very dull and weak.

Credito Real shares were quoted to-day at 23. Catalinas were slightly firmer at 6.90.

Exchange was quiet, but there is a firmer tendency in rates. Sterling is nominal at 48d. and francs at 5.06. Discounts are still difficult, as the Banco de la Nacion Argentina is not quite as liberal as expected; the Board discounted $400,000 yesterday. One broker presented a list of one million dollars and received $30,000.

Messrs. S B Hale & Co. have requested the National Government to appoint an engineer to inspect in Europe the material shipped for account of the City Improvement Works. This inspection used to be carried out by Messrs. Bateman, Parsons and Bateman, who acted also as inspectors of the contractors of the works: this entailed much economy and facilitated despatch. But since the contract of the Government with Messrs. Bateman has been cancelled, objections have been raised here to the class of materials shipped, and some consignments have actually been sent back to Europe, causing not only much loss of money but also much loss of time. In view of these facts, the Government is requested to appoint a special engineer abroad to inspect materials before shipment.

Mr. Carlos de la Barra has sent a proposal to the National Government to start a colony on the island of Choel-e-Choel in the Rio Negro valley. He proposes to buy the land at the upset price fixed by law and to start an agricultural family for every lot of 400 hectares. He promises also to invest 10% of his profits in the operation in improvements on the island. We very much doubt if the Argentine Government be willing to sell one of its most strategic positions in the South. There is already a very rising and flourishing town on the island in question. If the full forces of the 2nd Division of the Army were again stationed on the Rio Negro frontier that territory might show greater progress.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—

The fall in gold has completely paralyzed business in the produce markets. Telegrams from Europe, however, report a firmer tone in the wheat market Wool shows no improvement.

The British steamer Ingram, consigned to J. Brown, arrived to-day from Cardiff with cargo of coal for the Barraca Britannia of Mr. J. W. Wood

One of the finest North End properties in this city is for sale; the house is one of the finest in South America, built regardless of expense, facing the river and situated on the most fashionable of thoroughfares. The price asked is 80,000$, and people who know say that the place cost much more.

The gold market opened firm at the second ring, but fell away towards 4 o'clock. About fourteen thousand ounces were sold for to-morrow: the price opened at 57.50$, rose to 58, but closed weak at 57.30, say 252 % premium. Three thousand sovereigns were sold: the price opened at 17.90$ and closed at 17.80, say 253 % premium. La Plata Cedulas were somewhat firmer but very dull: the wonder is how the stock manages to hold present prices. Catalinas were firm at 6.90.

TO DRINKERS OF GENUINE SCOTCH WHISKY.

It is a fact that the best Scotch Whisky has now arrived in this country, and the following lines from BON GAULTIER'S BALLADS, viz: "THE MASSACRE OF THE MACPHERSON" (from the Gaelic) will prove that the "GLENLIVET" Whisky has always been to the fore, and its superiority will enable it always to maintain its position.

"Fhairshon had a Son
"Who married Noah's Daughter
"And nearly spoilt ta Flood
"By trinking up the water
"Which he would have done
"I'st least believe it
"Had ta mixture peen
"Only half "GLENLIVET." "

EXTRACT
TOBACCO.
According to numerous testimonials which we hold the extract of pure tobacco is the only infallible remedy to radically cure the scab in sheep and naturally the cheapest. As there are several trade marks like ours care must be taken to see that the extract bears the key marks, without which it is not genuine.

Directions for use
One part of extract mixed with 100 to 150 parts of hot or cold water for bath, and with 80 to 100 parts for hand curing.
